present
A Free Painting Workshop

Friday, March 22, 2019
11:45 a.m. – 1:15 p.m.

Passaic County Community College
Hamilton Club Gallery, 2nd floor
32 Church St., Paterson

Give yourself permission to play on your lunch break and join us for this free beginner's workshop taught by Linda Hill-ringhouse, a self-taught artist and former instructor at PCCC.

Linda's bold, imaginative work has been widely exhibited, including at the Newark Museum; Paterson Museum; Ben Shahn Center for Visual Arts, William Paterson University; Weinstein Gallery, Fairleigh Dickinson University; Belskie

Girl Behind Branches, 2006, acrylic on canvas, 14 1/2" x 10 1/2"

Museum; Intermezzo Gallery at the Bergen Performing Arts Center; Yale School of Art, and currently at the Hamilton Club Art Gallery at PCCC.

Painting supplies and paper will be available. However, if you would like to experiment with collage, please bring cloth, netting, photographs, magazine cuttings or other items. Glue and scissors will be provided. To register, contact Susan Balik, Manager, Cultural Affairs at 973-684-5444 or sbalik@pccc.edu. This workshop is open to the PCCC community as well as the general public.

The Passaic County Cultural & Heritage Council is funded, in part, by a grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a partner agency of the National Endowment for the Arts.
