

The Theater Program of Passaic County Community College presents

Our Twelfth Annual
PLAYWRIGHT IN RESIDENCE
ALEX GHERARDI
Playwright & Screenwriter

November 14 & 16, 2016
ON THE WANAQUAE CAMPUS OF PCCC

Monday, November 14

Playwright in Residence

Visits Theater Classes

&

Reception for Playwright in Residence

3:00 PM in the Lounge next to Our New Black Box

Wednesday, November 16

3:00 PM Location To Be Announced

PLAY-IN-PROGRESS READING

From Alex Gherardi's screenplay in progress

'AT A LOSS'

Read by Acting I Students and Other Students of PCCC

Alex Gherardi is an actor, playwright, screenwriter, and TV writer. He received his MFA in Playwriting/Screenwriting from Rutgers university in 2013. Since then he has had short and full length plays produced in the NY/NJ area, as well as throughout the country, he has written several episodes of the national television show "Fatal Attraction", has acted in a number of national television shows, commercials, and plays, and is currently working toward producing this screenplay. Alex is also an improviser working his way through the Upright Citizens Brigade Program, and an adjunct professor on writing and theater who has taught in Syracuse, Knoxville, and currently teaches all over NJ.

For More Information Contact Prof R.G. Rader at Ext 6413 or his Office on the Wanaque Campus